

PANAMA BOY RUSHED HERE FOR OPERATION

Patient Is Prevented From Leaving Ellis Island Immediately.

HAS TUMOR OF BRAIN

Philadelphia Specialist Will Make Attempt to Save Lad's Life.

CANAL ZONE INTERESTED

Collection Was Taken, Raising $1,000 to Cover Expenses of 14-Year-Old.

Manuel Salones, a fourteen-year-old boy of Panama City, who has all the symptoms of tumor of the brain, was rushed to this city Friday on his way to Philadelphia for an immediate operation by Dr. Charles H. Frazier, a brain specialist.

Residents of Panama City, where the boy was well known and liked, raised the money to send him and his father, Arturo, to this country in an effort to save his life. The boy, it is said, waited several hours beyond schedule to take the lad aboard. Letters were written by William Jennings Price, American Minister to the Republic of Panama, and two doctors urging quick action by the immigration authorities here and assuring them that the disease was not contagious.

Manuel got here Friday, but late yesterday afternoon Harry R. Landis, deputy commissioner of Ellis Island, said that Manuel was still on the island and that it probably would be Monday before the board of special inquiry in the boy's case reported. The hospital authorities on the island, he said, had not yet made a medical report.

The diagnosis of the boy's case was made by physicians of the Herriek Clinic in Panama. The ablest physicians in the Canal Zone, including Dr. A. B. Herriek, agreed that the symptoms indicated a tumor on the brain and said that a specialist must act if the boy's life was to be saved. Officials and wealthy residents poured money into a fund started by Justo Arosomena, a distiller, the employer of Salones, Sr. Senior Arosomena contributed $500. Within a week more than twice the sum needed, $1,000, had been raised.

The letter of Minister Price, which bears the seal of his office, says: "Mr. Salones, bearer of this letter, is taking his son to Philadelphia for a serious and difficult operation by a specialist. A distinguished American surgeon of this city, Dr. A. B. Herriek, has advised this course, and friends have provided funds to pay all expenses, including return to Panama, after the boy's release from the hospital. A letter from Dr. Herriek explains the disease and that it is in no way infectious."

This seems a most appealing case and as philanthropic people of Panama have interested themselves in behalf of the little fellow and contributed generously to the end that he may be saved, I cordially recommend every consideration be extended the father and son. A representative of the importing firm of Charles E. Griffin, of 115 Broad street, American agents for Senior Arosomena, awaited the father and son when the Colon docked at Pier 67, North River, but could, of course, do nothing. Under the law Manuel was taken to Ellis Island for observation. The letters were presented to Commissioner Landis, who said yesterday morning that the case was being rushed. Later he stated to a reporter that the boy would have to stay until tomorrow.

In a letter to Dr. Joseph C. Doane, resident physician of the Philadelphia General Hospital, Dr. J. J. Valliano, of Panama City said that the entire populace of the city is interested. "The boy presents a pitiful case that is unusual, and though a stranger to me I want you to help him," he said.

MISSING SAUL LEVINE DIED IN FALL OFF TRAIN

All Night Search Ends in Finding Furrier's Body.

An all night search for Saul Levine, a furrier, of 42 West Thirty-fourth street, Manhattan, ended yesterday with the discovery of his body on the rails of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad about 100 yards south of the Columbus avenue station in Mount Vernon.

It is believed that Levine fell off the train Friday evening as it took a curve approaching the station. No one has reported seeing him fall. His watch, which was found intact, had stopped at 7 o'clock, which was the time the train was due at the station. Near the body was found a box of candy which he had purchased, as was his custom, on his way home.

UNABLE TO COLLECT $5,500,000 CHINA LOAN

President of Chicago Bank Fails in the Effort.

PEKIN, Nov. 26 (Associated Press).—John J. Abbott, vice-president of the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Company of Chicago, who came here as a result of the Chinese Government's default on a loan of $5,500,000, will leave Pekin for the United States tomorrow.

Mr. Abbott said there had been "no collection, no renewal and no immediate prospects of adjustment" of the loan during his twenty-five days' stay here.

The Chicago bankers' loan to China was due on October 31. Early this month the American State Department instructed the American Minister in Pekin to call the attention of the Chinese Government to the seriousness of its failure to meet its indebtedness, especially with regard to the effect of such failure upon China's credit with other nations.

A loan to China of a similar amount, made by the Pacific Development Company, will fall due on December 1.

Must Walk Chalk Line in Busy Chicago Street

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Chicagoans will walk the chalk line tomorrow, for Charles R. Francis, Commissioner of Public Works, has ordered two white lines painted down the middle of both sidewalks on State street, Chicago's principal thoroughfare, from Randolph street to Jackson Boulevard.

The lines will divide the sidewalk and pedestrians are supposed to "keep to the right of the line." "The idea is to bring order out of chaos," the Commissioner explained. "There will be less confusion among Christmas shoppers if they walk right."

FINGERPRINTS MAY SOLVE STRANGLING

Experts Say Suspect's Whorls Match Those in Home of Slain Mrs. Maier.

Experts at Mineola, L. I., last night said they had found more than 200 characteristics in the finger prints of Theodore Gartridge, the pedler suspect in the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Maier at Hempstead Plains, similar to ones noted in smudges on objects in the Maier house. Gartridge continued to deny he was anywhere near Mrs. Maier's house on the day she was strangled, or in fact, at any time, but he was held on suspicion, and it was said that a technical charge would be made against him to-day or tomorrow.

In his examination of Gartridge's finger prints, made soon after his arrest on Friday, Charles H. Hansen, Nassau county expert, was assisted yesterday by Gerard Kuhne, supervising finger print expert for the Department of Correction, in this city. The two photographed the man's prints and then enlarged the photographs many times to throw into full relief any peculiarities the whorls might show. They did the same with photographs of finger smudges found on the dishes and glass jars in the house. Later they said there could be no doubt of the suspect's presence there recently, for under the microscope, they explained, the whorls revealed marked similarities.

Mrs. Maier was murdered on the night of November 17 or the morning of the following day, Gartridge said he was in New York both days. The previous day, he said, he spent in the Bowers, sleeping at a lodging house that night. The following day, according to his story, he sold his goods in the Greenpoint section of Brooklyn. Again on Friday he was in Greenpoint, he said. He offered to take the detectives over the routes he followed, and it is likely they will let him do that to-morrow.

District Attorney Charles R. Weeks, who is directing the investigation, said yesterday that he will endeavor to have Gartridge identified by school children. It is believed that if the man was on any of the roads leading to the Maier house at the time he says he was in the city his alibi may be broken by the children.

WANTS ALL HOSPITALS TO ADMIT STUDENTS

Dr. Deaver Causes New Stir in Threefold Demand.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—Dr. John B. Deaver having, as he says, "stirred them all up by the truth about radium," proceeded today to "stir them up again" by a threefold demand made respectively on the hospitals, the Legislature and the public.

Of the hospitals Dr. Deaver demands that without exception they shall open their wards to medical students and that any patient, whether private or not, shall be accessible as a subject for clinics.

Of the Legislature, and incidentally of public opinion, Dr. Deaver asks for pathologists an unrestricted right of animal experimentation.

By the public Dr. Deaver wants an abandonment of the "silly and selfish sentimentalism" that leads them to deny surgeons the authority to make post mortem examinations. It is vain, Dr. Deaver thinks, to ask for legislative help in this direction until the public has been brought to "a more intelligent attitude."

GEN. BERRY CAUSES ARREST OF ADMIRER

Says Miss Mabel Knaack Annoyed Him With 48 Letters in Terms of Endearment.

Saying Miss Mabel Knaack, 33, stenographer, of 349 Fifty-fifth street, Brooklyn, has annoyed him with forty-eight lengthy, typewritten letters couched in terms of endearment since August, 1920, Dr. Charles W. Berry, who was Adjutant-General of New York State under Gov. Alfred E. Smith, caused her arraignment yesterday in Fifth Avenue Court, Brooklyn, charged with a misdemeanor.

Miss Knaack, pretty, well dressed and speaking in a well modulated voice, asserted on the stand that Dr. Berry had shown many attentions to her and said he wanted to marry her, but that his attitude toward her had cooled. She appeared nervous at the examination. Three of the letters read into the record were incoherent.

Dr. Berry is chairman of the Kings County Democratic Committee. He was a Brigadier-General in the Twenty-seventh Division and was decorated for bravery in France. His wife died last August. He denied he had been in terms of intimacy with the woman, saying they had never been more than friends. He met her at an affair in the Fourth Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church in Brooklyn in August, 1920. In November, 1920, Dr. Berry testified, he asked Miss Knaack to stop the correspondence, but the flow of letters continued. The letters submitted began with the salutation, "Ted," and were signed "Mabel."

"He wanted me to baby him, sympathize with him and console with him," Miss Knaack testified. Magistrate Gelsinger, after consideration, asked Miss Knaack if she would stop writing the letters. She promised that she would. He then paroled her for a hearing in the Court of Special Sessions. Dr. Berry's home is at 572 Forty-seventh street, Brooklyn.

FOG FORCES PLANE DOWN.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 25.—Becoming confused in the dense fog, an airplane, piloted by H. M. Cronk, a Federal Reserve officer, was forced to land here to-day. The machine was slightly damaged.

The plane was on its way from Baltimore to Boston. The pilot was accompanied by Basil Gordon of Boston. Neither flyer was injured.

MULHERON SLATED FOR U. S. MARSHAL

Recommended as Successor to A. Bollschweiler for New Jersey.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. TRENTON, Nov. 26.—The Department of Justice, through Atty.-Gen. Daugherty, has notified Albert Bollschweiler of Perth Amboy, the United States Marshal for the New Jersey District, that his retirement will be expected upon the completion of eight years of service on December 1. President Harding is expected to appoint James H. Mulheron, principal keeper of the New Jersey State prison, to succeed him.

Mr. Mulheron's term as principal keeper will expire next January, when it is understood that Gov. Edwards will name Richard P. Hughes of Burlington, a Democrat, to that position. Mr. Hughes filled an unexpired term as principal keeper.

Mr. Mulheron's appointment as Marshal has been recommended to the President by Senators Edge and Frelinghuysen and his selection seems to be assured. Mr. Bollschweiler was appointed Marshal by President Wilson in December, 1913. His reappointment was held up in the United States Senate because of some feeling at that time against the appointment of a German to that position. He was not actually sworn in under the second appointment until August 15, 1919. The Department of Justice holds, however, that Mr. Bollschweiler is entitled to serve for only eight years from the date of his original appointment.
